

Boris Steffen is a Senior Managing Director with GlassRatner Advisory and Capital Group. An expert in accounting, finance, valuation, solvency and damages analyses, he has served as a consulting and testifying expert, and led investigations, for privately held and publicly traded enterprises as well as governmental agencies in the U.S. and abroad. Matters in which he has advised have included antitrust and competition policy, bankruptcy and restructuring, bribery, corruption and financial statement fraud, breach of contract, intellectual property, international trade and arbitration, mergers and acquisitions, securities and utility regulation. Prior to entering the consulting field, he worked in finance with Inland Steel Industries, Inc., antitrust with the U.S. Federal Trade Commission, Bureau of Competition and in corporate development with U.S. Generating, Inc.

Boris was awarded a MM degree with specializations in accounting and finance from the Kellogg School of Management of Northwestern University, and a BS degree in finance, and BM degree in music performance, from DePaul University. He holds the CPA, ASA, ABV, CDBV and CGMA certifications. He has lectured for the American University Washington College of Law and University of San Diego School of Law, and spoken at conferences and authored articles published by the American Bar Association, American Bankruptcy Institute, Association of Insolvency & Restructuring Advisors, Financier Worldwide, International Legal Alliance Summit & Awards, Law360.com and National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges.