Marc's more than 20 years of experience encompasses a wide variety of corporate finance engagements with a focus on valuation, restructuring and litigation consulting. Marc has valued hundreds of companies and assets for mergers and acquisitions, divestitures, capital raising, litigation and arbitration, bankruptcies, reorganizations, financial and tax reporting and strategic planning purposes. In addition to enterprise valuations, he has valued JV interests, debt, derivatives, common and preferred stock, LP interests and intangible assets and IP. He has assessed value in both going concern and liquidation scenarios.

Marc has been qualified as a valuation expert in federal and bankruptcy court and has analyzed damages for litigation, arbitration and mediation purposes. He has also advised companies and various stakeholders in bankruptcy and workout situations and has assessed solvency and corporate credit worthiness. In addition, Marc has advised companies in buy and sell side M&A transaction advisory engagements, including pricing and structuring deals. Marc has advised investors, law firms, creditors, government agencies and public and private companies on a variety of financial issues.

Marc has also worked as an investment banker and an investment analyst at a distressed debt hedge fund. He has an MBA in accounting, finance, and strategy with honors from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business and is a CFA charterholder. Marc is a frequent lecturer on valuation and distressed company issues and was on the independent review board for AIRA's Standards of Distressed Business Valuation.
